The invitation will continue through November to be extended to persons of all ages to gather with the younger children.

SHYF will attend the readers theatre, "I Have Not Forsaken the Word of God: Jacques d'Auchy's Confessional Struggle" today at Ramseyer Auditorium, Bluffton University. Please meet at 3:30 p.m. at Ramseyer in College Hall. The performance begins at 4 p.m.

The "Mirror of the Martyrs" traveling exhibit opens today in the Albrecht Gallery of Sauder Visual Arts Center at Bluffton University. The exhibit tells the story of religious conflict and violence in the Reformation era from the perspective of Anabaptist martyrs and offers one way to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the beginning of the Protestant Reformation. Gallery hours are Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.; Saturday, 1-5 p.m. and Sunday, 1-6 p.m. A readers theatre, "I Have Not Forsaken the Word of God: Jacques d'Auchy's Confessional Struggle," directed by Dr. Melissa Friesen, BU professor of theatre and communication, Bluffton University, will be held at 4 p.m. today at Ramseyer Auditorium, College Hall. This dramatic performance displays key spiritual and theological dialogues recorded in the "Martyr's Mirror" between Anabaptist martyr Jacques d'Auchy and religious officials who interrogated him prior to his execution in 1559. The script for this readers theatre was written by Carrie and Gerald Mast to celebrate the recent discovery of the original 1685 copper etching plate created by Jan Luyken to illustrate the story of Jacques d'Auchy. More information about the exhibit and presentations can also be found at <http://www.bluffton.edu/arts/mirror/>
